FATHERS OF CONFEDERATION.

KEY TO "FATHERS OF CONFEDERATION IN LONDON"

The representatives of the original four provinces of Canada met, under the chairmanship of Honourable John A. Macdonald, at the Westminster Palace Hotel in London in December, 1866, to shape the Act to be known as the "British North America Act". The delegates sat continuously from the 4th to the 24th December, and the above picture is said to depict the scene on Christmas Eve, 1866.

As a result of the deliberations of those who have come to be known as the "Fathers of Confederation" the Constitution of Canada took form, and Canada came into being by Royal proclamation on July 1st, 1867.

Those in the picture are as follows:

Foreword

The Directory and Guide to Services of the Ontario Government is presented in three parts.

First part is the Directory, giving the names of officials commencing with his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, the Legislature, the Cabinet and the various departments, boards and commissions. Changes in the various departments will arise, the information being as of date of preparation, February, 1955.

The second part is The Guide, a presentation by subject of the services provided through the Departments. This presentation appears to answer a need for those dealing with the government, for communities, municipal and other officials, service clubs and all types of organizations who seek the government agency dealing with a specific subject of service.

The third part presents the publications prepared and distributed by the various departments, available as indicated.

There is also brief historical, statistical and other data on the Province.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Minister: THE HONOURABLE F. S. THOMAS

The Department of Agriculture is constituted, through its branches and institutions, to serve the agricultural interests of the Province, to promote the prosperity and welfare of farm people, and to develop and improve the agricultural industry of Ontario through a scientific approach to its problems and an appreciation of the needs, not only of the people of Canada, but of the whole world, for supplies of essential food.

There are four distinct phases to the activities of the Department, although they are co-related and each is dependent on the others for the success and effectiveness of the work done. These four phases are instruction, research, extension and promotion, and each of these has its place in the activities of the Department in the interests of sound agricultural development in Ontario.

Under Part II of the Act, provision is made for collective bargaining between producers and distributors with respect to the price to be paid producers for fluid milk supplied. When such an agreement has been reached and filed with the Board, it becomes effective forthwith and the Board is responsible for its enforcement.

When producers and distributors fail to reach agreement on the price to be paid, Part II of the Act provides that the Board shall arbitrate the dispute and make an award setting the price to be paid the producers.

FARM ECONOMICS BRANCH

The Farm Economics Branch deals with the business end of farming. It is concerned with farm problems; where the money comes from and where it goes. It is concerned with farm practices, crops and livestock to the extent that they affect the net earnings of farm operators. The Economics Branch makes its contribution to a more prosperous and efficient agriculture through the analysis of farm business records and by making this pooled experience of farm operators available to those who can use it best. An important purpose also lies in promoting a better public understanding of what the problems of agriculture are.

METHOD: With some assistance from Branch Fieldmen, the co-operating farmers keep financial and production records for the period of the study. Then the accounts and production records are analysed to determine the cause and effect of relationships between the use of land, labour, machinery, fertilizers, feed, etc., and yields, labour income and net returns.

Each project is continued for a sufficient number of years to eliminate the effect of unusual weather conditions in one season and over a sufficient number of farms to eliminate the effect of local peculiar circumstances on any individual farm. The averages and the relationships obtained from the analysis form the basis of the published report on the problem being studied. In addition each co-operating farm operator is supplied with a statement at the end of each season, showing a break-down of his own business operations compared with a similar break-down of the averages for all co-operators in his area and in the Province.

TYPE OF STUDY CONDUCTED: These projects which have been reported upon include Canning Crop, Potato, Hog, Sheep, Dairy, Beef, Turnip, Grape and Berry Production costs; Winter Wheat, Pasture Experiment and Farm Title Transfer Studies.

THE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

Minister: THE HON. MACKINNON PHILLIPS, M.D., C.M., LL.D.

The history of organized public health in Ontario during the past 70 years reveals the evolution of modern public health movement from a small beginning in 1882, with a part-time secretary and a budget of $4,000, to the point where the Departmental services now require the spending of close to $50,000,000 annually.

The Department provides consultant and diagnostic services through the local health authorities in all fields of public health. Some of the services rendered to the general public are outlined here. It is hoped this will give a better appreciation and understanding of what the Department is endeavouring to do.

DENTAL SERVICES

The Dental Division of the Department of Health includes in its activities:

- Promotion of dental health education.
- Direction and supervision of dental services in the Ontario Mental Hospitals and the Central Dental Laboratory.
- Supervision of the operation of railway dental cars which provide service for school children in unorganized territory in Northern Ontario.
- Administration of the grants-in-aid to Local Boards of Health in organized territory, in respect to school dental services.

Every Ontario (mental) Hospital has a well equipped dental clinic (staffed by a dentist and an assistant). Patients admitted to the hospitals are given a careful dental examination, mouth conditions are charted, and a radiographic check-up is made of all cases where possible. Needed treatment is provided. A healthy mouth is a requisite to the promotion of physical and mental well-being.

A fully equipped Central Laboratory is maintained to provide service for the clinics of the Ontario (mental) Hospitals. Two full-time technicians are kept busy constructing prosthetic appliances.

Large areas of Northern Ontario are without the services of a resident dentist. To provide a service for pre-school and school age children, the Department of Health maintains two railway dental cars, staffed by full-time dentists and assistants.

A school dental service is one means of promoting healthy mouths and good dental health habits. The Department of Health encourages the operation of school services by payment of grants-in-aid. The service may be a simple contract, with the resident dentist to supply the service in his office; or dental equipment may be installed in the schools—in one case a mobile dental clinic brings the service right to the schools. At the present time more than 100 school dental programs are eligible for the department grant.

Public dental health education and research in the field of the prevention and control of dental diseases offer the greatest promise of raising the dental health level of the public.

The Department recognizes the value of research into these problems and is presently giving grant assistance to several such studies.

EPIDEMIOLOGY

The Division of Epidemiology is concerned with the following activities:

- The extent and relative problems of communicable diseases analysed each week from the reports of cases and deaths submitted from the various Medical Officers of Health in all counties and districts in Ontario.
- The distribution of free biological products to physicians and Medical Officers of Health, for the prevention and treatment of disease.
- The distribution of free insulin to indigent persons in Ontario.
- The payment of hospitalization of poliomyelitis cases as set out in the Regulations.
- The distribution of respirators used in the treatment of respiratory paralysis in poliomyelitis, and compensation paid to typhoid fever carriers under the Regulations.
- Control of communicable diseases in unorganized territory and the inoculation of pre-school and school children in these areas against diphtheria and smallpox as requested by the various school boards in the unorganized territory schools.
- Co-operation with local Medical Officers of Health in connection with epidemiological investigations in the control of communicable disease.

In order to maintain the health of a community, the Medical Officer of Health must be made aware of the occurrence and location of sickness. There are some 40 communicable diseases that are required by Regulations to be reported to the local Medical Officer of Health in Ontario by physicians, hospital superintendents, and parents. In the light of our knowledge of communicable diseases, there are only four diseases where the quarantine of premises is still required—smallpox, diphtheria, meningococcal meningitis, and poliomyelitis. The Province has been free of smallpox for the past 17 years and diphtheria has reached a new low of less than 10 cases reported in 1953 and 1954.

HEALTH UNITS

In 1944, the Ontario government made legislative provisions for the establishment of county Health Units—a far-sighted and progressive step which has proven its wisdom and worth. Provincial Department of Health assistance to Health Units includes information to interested groups and councils, help in organization, and substantial financial aid.

Health

A Health Unit is a union of urban and rural municipalities for the purpose of providing a more efficient sustained community health program in the area. The program is carried out by full-time qualified personnel. This union, by agreement between the interested participants, may consist of counties, districts, or groups of townships, together with their cities or separate towns. The Unit functions under the local authority of a Board of Health which appoints the Unit's personnel consisting of doctors, nurses, sanitary inspectors, and clerical staff. Larger units employ veterinarians, and some have consultants in public health education and public health dentists.

At the end of 1954 there were 27 Health Units in Ontario. Their services to the public include communicable disease control; tuberculosis and venereal disease prevention; maternal and infant hygiene; pre-school and school health services; sanitation, including the safeguarding of milk and water supplies, and the sanitary disposal of garbage and sewage; health education; mental health; and preventive dentistry.

INDUSTRIAL HYGIENE

The Division of Industrial Hygiene enforces certain regulations under The Public Health Act, provides radon seeds prepared from radium for the cancer clinics in Ontario and supervises the health of that section of the population engaged in industry.

The following regulations under The Public Health Act are enforced by the Division:

(1) Regulations respecting camps, works and premises and the employers and workmen thereof in territorial districts without municipal organization. These regulations deal with sanitation, housing and medical care of workmen employed in such areas.

(2) Bedding regulations which are directed to the proper labelling of bedding materials and certain other articles in respect to the filling material used.

(3) Fumigation and Extermination regulations which deal with the use of certain chemicals for disinfestation.

(4) Silicosis regulations wherein employees exposed to silica in foundries and other industries are certified after X-ray examinations.

The radon seeds for cancer treatment purposes are prepared in a special laboratory. The radon is extracted from radium and put into gold tubing which is subsequently cut up into seeds of various sizes. The operation of such a plant requires great skill.

However, the prime function of the Division of Industrial Hygiene is concerned with the well-being of that section of the population engaged in industry.

Long continued employment in certain industries has been known to carry with it certain specific hazards; for example, lead poisoning among scrap metal and other workers with lead, silicosis in miners and stonecutters and hardness of hearing in boilermakers. On the other hand, there are many misconceptions as to what constitutes an industrial hazard. The Division is interested in determining the extent to which such hazards actually exist, and in devising corrective measures.

Attempts are made to promote employer interest in providing a suitable health service in the plant; for example, dressing stations for minor cuts and abrasions, emergency service for more serious injuries and for minor illnesses. Regular medical examinations for all workers, including special diagnostic procedures when warranted, for the purpose of the early detection of those ailments commonly found in the working age group, are encouraged. Prompt recognition of the chronic adult diseases makes treatment possible at a time which favours the best chance of recovery.

The introduction into industry of new methods and materials brings with it the possibility of a health hazard to the employed worker. In the laboratory of the Division of Industrial Hygiene materials are examined by specially trained chemists and physicists, for the purpose of detecting the presence of possibly toxic substances. The importance of this work can be appreciated only when the complexity of the materials used is realized. The laboratory also tests blood and other fluids submitted by industrial physicians engaged in the control of occupational diseases.

LABORATORIES

The Division of Laboratories of the Ontario Department of Health is concerned with the laboratory examination of clinical material and all other types of specimens which may be related in any way to public health. The great bulk of this work comprises the bacteriological investigation of infectious diseases, which is performed without charge, as a service to the public through the medical profession. Bacteriological control of milk and water supplies is also an important function. All specimens for examination other than water are accepted only from Medical Officers of Health and legally qualified medical practitioners. Water samples may be submitted by any citizen of Ontario.

In addition to general and special medical bacteriology, the Division of Laboratories offers examination facilities to the profession, in parallel to the service of hospital laboratories, in bio-chemistry and tissue pathology, at nominal fees.

Suitable mailing containers are supplied by the laboratories for the submission of all types of specimens. The laboratories of the Division act as depots for the distribution of all biological products, such as antitoxins, toxoids and vaccines, necessary for the control and treatment of certain infectious diseases. These are supplied by the Ontario Department of Health as a free service to the public through the medical profession.

The staff of the Division of Laboratories includes more than 350 trained workers. Methods employed in the laboratories are under constant review and scientific advances in laboratory practice are adopted as soon as practicable. The Central Laboratory acts as a reference laboratory for the Division in training staff and the supply of special materials, such as antigens and anti-sera. It is situated at 360 Christie Street in Toronto, and provides complete service, including training, research investigation and virus study. The number of examinations performed by the Division of Laboratories during 1954 exceeded 2,000,000 with 90% being done free of charge as a service to the public through the medical profession.

The Division includes 18 laboratories situated in different parts of the Province of Ontario, located suitably to afford easy access to the entire population.

In addition a mobile laboratory is available for work in other areas where on-the-spot laboratory work is required.

MATERNAL AND CHILD HYGIENE

The Division of Maternal and Child Hygiene concerns itself with matters related to the health of the expectant and nursing mother, and to the health of infants, pre-school and school age children. It administers legislation concerned with the medical examination of expectant mothers and acts in an advisory capacity to official agencies with respect to infant, pre-school and school health services.

The health of the mother and the future health of the infant are directly affected by many factors during the pre-natal period. Every expectant mother should, therefore, seek medical guidance from the time she first suspects her pregnancy.

With a view to assisting the mother toward a better understanding of the requirements of the developing infant and growing young child and helping her to better appreciate the necessity of closely following the advice of her physician, the Department publishes a booklet—"The Early Years"—which is much in demand throughout the Province.

Pre-school and school health services supplement the work of the family physician in the continuous search for defects which, if undetected, might lead to chronic ill health, or develop into a future handicap. With these considerations in view, the Division interests itself in the study of problems related to the physical and mental health of children of all age groups.

The Division maintains an advisory service to public general hospitals in matters related to nursing techniques in obstetrical units and new-born nurseries.

In co-operation with the Department of Education, direction is given to the medical examination of applicants to the teacher colleges of the province, including summer courses, and to extra-mural candidates.

MEDICAL STATISTICS

The Division of Medical Statistics acts in an advisory and consultative capacity to all Divisions of the Department in the compilation, analysis, interpretation and application of statistical data as well as in the planning and conduct of special studies and surveys.

The Division is responsible for the collection, tabulation, and analysis of cancer data recorded by the Ontario Cancer Clinics and the supervision of the printing and distribution of the record forms. Each year, the Division prepares the Annual Statistical Report on Cancer. A special statistical report based on the data in the Annual Statistical Report is prepared for inclusion in the Annual Report of the Ontario Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation. Long term and continuing analyses of cancer mortality and morbidity data have been initiated. These studies also extend to geographic distribution and estimates of incidence.

The Division is responsible for the collection, tabulation, and analysis of Ontario mental health and hospital statistics. The Division prepares the Annual Report upon Mental Hospitals and Mental Health Services together with the Annual Statistical Review. Studies of the incidence and prevalence of mental disorders are in progress, utilizing data available from official statistical reports. Special compilations and analysis of mental health statistical data for clinical and administrative purposes are undertaken from time to time.

The objectives of the Dental Public Health Statistics and Research section of the Division are to stimulate research in preventive dental measures and to evaluate their public health application. The data resulting from the system of recording and compiling dental disease records in various health areas are being consolidated as an aid to dental health program planning.

Health

Three plans have been developed, in collaboration with the Division of Industrial Hygiene, for the recording, collection, tabulation and analysis of morbidity data in industry. A brochure outlining the method of recording visits to the health centre in any industrial plant for use in conjunction with the three plans has also been produced.

The Division prepares from time to time special compilations of morbidity and mortality data of particular interest in the public health field, special attention being focussed on infant and maternal mortality. Special bulletins on particular aspects of health statistics are prepared and released from time to time.

Each year the Division prepares a report on the highlights of the current recorded mortality experience in Ontario for inclusion in the Annual Report of the Department.

MENTAL HEALTH

The Department of Health operates mental hospitals in 17 centres throughout Ontario for the care and treatment of the mentally ill, mentally defective and the epileptic. At present, 19,000 patients are being cared for by a staff numbering 6,200. An 18th Ontario Hospital is under construction at Port Arthur.

These Ontario Mental Hospitals are designed for the treatment of those suffering from one of the commonest forms of serious illness. They provide the best and most modern forms of care and treatment for all patients. Upon admission, all patients receive a thorough physical and mental examination. The appropriate treatment then is prescribed. Available for suitable patients are electroshock treatment, insulin shock treatment, and the delicate surgical procedure known as leucotomy. Surgical and dental care are provided as required. On admission, and annually, all patients receive chest X-rays.

Over 3,000 patients are discharged back into the community annually, usually after a trial period of six months in their homes. An additional 700 selected convalescent patients are being cared for in private boarding homes in various communities. These patients are carefully supervised by the medical and social service staffs of the hospitals.

The Department of Health operates throughout the province mental health clinics which examine individuals requiring this type of service. This is a community service primarily designed to assist a person with any type of mental health problem. The clinics provide advice in regard to diagnosis and treatment, and work in conjunction with physicians and agencies in the community. More than 95,000 children and adults have been seen by the clinics since the inauguration of the Mental Health Clinic service in June, 1930.

The setting up of psychiatric units in approved general hospitals throughout the province is encouraged by the government by means of $8,500-per-bed grants.

Like all other forms of serious illness, adequate nursing care is an important part of the treatment of the mentally ill. In order to help meet this need, approved schools of nursing are being conducted in three Ontario Mental Hospitals. A three-year course is given which leads to nurse registration. This course includes affiliation of one year in a general hospital and three months in a children's hospital. Affiliation courses in psychiatric nursing are provided in Ontario Mental Hospitals for nurses-in-training from general hospitals.

NURSING BRANCH

Present day nursing is provided by three types of workers—the registered nurse, many with advanced preparation, the certified nursing assistant and those without any formal training.

The Department of Health, through this Branch, administers the Nursing Act, 1951.

The Nursing Act authorizes the setting up of requirements to regulate the establishment, maintenance and conduct of approved schools of nursing for the registered nurse. Two registered nurses on the staff of this Branch visit the approved schools of nursing in the Province regularly and act in the capacity of consultants. There are 61 approved schools. Each school of nursing is required to provide comfortable living accommodation for the students, adequate facilities for teaching and opportunity for suitable recreation.

Today's nurse has need of a broad professional education. It usually requires three years. Schools of nursing provide experience in the fields of medicine, surgery, paediatrics, obstetrics and psychiatry. The course is secured in the same fashion as is adopted in the preparation of those entering any other professional or semi-professional field, namely, through lectures, demonstrations, group discussions, reading and experience on the hospital wards. This experience is not self-acquired but is secured under the direction of a qualified teaching staff.

Young women who wish to gain entrance to a school of nursing are required to be at least 17 years of age. The minimum requirement for entrance to an approved school of nursing is the secondary school graduation diploma of the Department of Education where physics and chemistry of grades XI and XII or agriculture 1 and 2 of grades XI and XII have been taken as one of the options, or an equivalent certificate as determined by the Minister of Education. These admission requirements are stated under the Nurses' Registration Act, 1951 which is administered by the Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario.

For seven years bursaries have been made available through national health grants to registered graduate nurses for study in nursing education at universities in Ontario. The graduate who receives the bursary undertakes to accept a teaching position in a school of nursing in Ontario for one year after the completion of the university course. Applications for bursaries are made to the Nursing Branch.

The Nursing Act establishes and protects the title of Certified Nursing Assistant. It also authorizes the setting up of requirements to regulate the establishment, maintenance and conduct of training courses for nursing assistants and the process of provincial registration for this group.

A registered nurse on the staff of this Branch visits the training courses for nursing assistants regularly, and acts as consultant in all matters pertaining to the program. Approved training courses are conducted by several agencies—Department of Veterans' Affairs at Sunnybrook Hospital, Toronto; Brockville, St. Vincent de Paul Hospital; Haileybury, Misericordia Hospital; Hamilton, St. Peter's Infirmary; Ottawa, St. Vincent Hospital; Picton, Prince Edward County Hospital; Sturgeon Falls, St. Jean de Brebeuf Hospital; Wingham, Wingham General Hospital; and the Ontario Department of Health which operates five centres of its own at Fort William, Hamilton, Ottawa, Sudbury and Toronto. Fifteen hundred nursing assistants have been registered over the last seven years.

The qualifying course takes 10 months and is predominantly a course in practical nursing which trains the person to give acceptable nursing care to the convalescent, non-acutely and chronically ill patients in any field of nursing. The minimum requirement for entrance to these courses is Grade VIII.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING

A main objective of this division is to interest and assist local boards of health in the organization and development of public health nursing services of a type and scope indicated by the particular needs of each area and in keeping with generally accepted standards. Methods used to carry out this objective include:

- Regular visits by general supervisors to existing services.
- Visits by members of staff to centres interested in developing services.
- Correspondence, interviews and conferences in the office and in the field with county and municipal officials, interested citizens, physicians, dentists and nurses.
- Preparation and distribution of bulletins to public health nurses.
- Co-operation with University Schools of Nursing in preparation of public health personnel (supervisors and staff) including arrangements for field practice of students.
- Reviewing professional credentials of nurses seeking public health appointments, in terms of the qualifications required by the regulations.
- Assistance in securing qualified public health nursing personnel for local boards of health through receiving credentials, interviewing applicants, and making known to them opportunities existing in the Province.
- Educational Supervisor assists local supervisors in the development of staff education programs by means of visits and correspondence.
- Carrying out surveys of local services and making recommendations for developments of the programs.
- Addressing public meetings as requested.
- Regional conferences.

The Division also co-operates with health, nursing and related voluntary agencies and maintains close relationship with the Departments of Education, Public Welfare and Agriculture (Institutes Branch).

Assistance is given in the organization and carrying out of the program for medical examinations each year in the eight provincial Teacher's Colleges and The College of Education.

Supervision of the bursary plan whereby financial assistance is given from monies now made available under the Federal Public Health Grants scheme, to enable registered nurses to pursue courses in public health nursing at Ontario universities. The plan includes also public health nurses enrolled in the course in Administration and Supervision in Public Health Nursing.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE HOSPITALS

The Province of Ontario is served by 187 public hospitals, which provide over 25,000 patient beds and 4,000 nursery bassinets. Close to 800,000 patients were treated in 1954 and over 8,000,000 days of care provided.

These hospitals are assisted by the Provincial Government by maintenance grants, which totalled $9,500,000 in 1954.

Lack of construction programs during the depression and war years, higher birth rates, and post-war immigration, together with generally increased use of hospital facilities, created a serious shortage of hospital accommodation in many parts of the Province. To assist the hospitals in meeting this shortage, the Government undertook in 1947 to pay grants to approved construction projects. More than 435 projects had been approved by the end of 1954, involving Provincial grants of over $36,000,000. These grants are paid on the basis of number of beds provided, at varying rates, according to the type of bed, i.e., active treatment beds, convalescent beds, beds for the chronically ill, nursery bassinets and nurses' beds.

Besides their primary function of caring for the sick and injured, some 60 of the public general hospitals operate training schools for nurses. With the increase in available patient beds, a great many more nurses were required. One of the problems in the expansion of the training program has been the lack of residential accommodation. To aid the hospitals to meet this problem, the Provincial Government provides a capital grant of $1,000 for each nurse's bed. To the end of 1954, grants have been approved for 3,300 nurses' beds.

In 1954, a Regulation was approved permitting the payment of capital grants for out-patient departments and certain auxiliary services such as X-ray, laboratory, autopsy, pharmacy, etc. This grant is paid on a floor area basis at the rate of $1,000 for each 300 square feet.

In 1954, the Ontario Government made a special capital grant of approximately $7,000,000 which was distributed to all the public hospitals in the Province. This grant was used by the hospitals to reduce capital debt, to purchase new equipment for operating rooms, laboratories, laundries, kitchens, etc., for alterations and renovations and general improvement of the hospital plant.

The Government, also concerned with the early care of mild mental illness, is helping provide psychiatric units in the larger general hospitals where the services of trained psychiatric personnel are available. The major portion of the cost of construction related to these services is paid by the Provincial Government, the grant per bed being $8,500.

Some hospitals are now providing one or two detention beds, in which mentally ill patients awaiting transfer to treatment centres, may be cared for. The Province pays a grant of $8,500 for each bed so provided.

While the responsibility for patient care rests with the individual hospital, and more particularly the medical staff, the Department of Health, represented by the Chief Medical Inspector of Hospitals, attempts to assure that the Regulations in this regard under The Public Hospitals Act are adhered to, including the enactment of suitable by-laws providing for the appointment and adequate functioning of the medical staff. In this matter, the department enjoys the support and invaluable assistance of the Ontario Medical Association.

One medical inspector is employed to inspect and report to a departmental committee on all private hospitals, and with respect to applications for license under the Private Hospital Act.

SANITARY ENGINEERING

The Sanitary Engineering Division was created in 1910. Its function is to administer the requirements of The Public Health Act and related legislation in respect to water supplies, sewerage systems, stream sanitation, refuse disposal, milk and food sanitation, cemeteries, recreational sanitation and all forms of environmental sanitation.

At present the Division is supervising:

399 public water works systems

209 public sewerage systems

199 sewage treatment works serving 141 municipalities

All streams and surface waters of the Province

35 refuse disposal works

579 milk pasteurization plants

525 frosted food locker plants

Cemeteries

700 summer camps

All food handling establishments—with the municipalities

Plans for all water and sewage works to be constructed in the province are reviewed by the Division and certificates of approval issued. The expenditures involved in these works now amount to over thirty-three million dollars a year. In addition to approval of plans, there is continuous supervision of the operation of these works. Regular inspections are made by engineers of the Division.

Industrial waste disposal is a major problem and it is necessary to give close attention to these wastes in order to protect stream sanitation.

The Division acts in an advisory capacity to all local health agencies in the field of sanitation and investigates numerous problems.

Legislation involved in the work of the Division includes:

1. The Public Health Act

2. The Cemeteries Act

3. Regulations on Milk Pasteurization

4. Regulations on Frosted Food Locker Plants

5. Regulations on Eating Establishments

6. Regulations on Summer Camps

7. Regulations on Cemeteries

8. Regulations on Swimming Pools

9. Regulations respecting Plumbing and Sewers

Treatment of public water supplies, municipal sewage and industrial wastes involves the construction of intricate plants and careful operation of these. Ontario has a large number of such works, and these are being increased to meet the demands of growing urban populations and expansion of industries. The Sanitary Engineering Division regularly checks all these systems. Their efficient operation checks spread of disease and prevents offensive conditions.

The protection of surface waters against pollution is a responsibility which calls for joint action by municipalities, industries and the public. This Division maintains supervision over all streams and water courses in the province. The objective in this is to eliminate pollution and to ensure conservation of water quality; and thus enable these waters to be used for domestic purposes, for recreation and the enjoyment of all.

The provision of milk and food supplies which are safe for human consumption is essential to healthy living. In Ontario, over 99 per cent of the milk sold for fluid consumption is pasteurized and its safety ensured against the spread of disease. Standards for restaurants and all eating establishments are uniform throughout the province. The objective in the food control program is safety against disease and a high standard of sanitation in all places where food is handled or processed.

Recreational sanitation is supervised through regulations on summer camps for children, and swimming pools, as well as advisory action on all other environmental sanitation concerning the vacationist.

The Division administers regulations concerning plumbing and sewers which maintain uniform requirements throughout the province for this field of environmental sanitation.

TUBERCULOSIS PREVENTION

In Ontario, there are 15 sanatoria for the treatment of persons suffering from tuberculosis, with a bed capacity of more than 4,300. Approximately 7,000 patients are treated in these sanatoria each year.

The Ontario government contributes substantially to the cost of maintenance of these patients, as well as providing grants for new construction. Likewise, the provincial Department of Health pays for pneumothorax and pneumoperitoneum refills for discharged patients. The government contribution for the control of tuberculosis in this province is more than $8,000,000 annually.

Coupled with the service offered through mass X-rays of presumably well people is the continuous operation of diagnostic chest clinics. These are carried on in approximately 250 centres in Ontario. In 50 of these centres, the clinic service is provided by the Department. In most others, the service is operated by local voluntary tuberculosis associations. Supervision of all clinics is provided by physicians from the Department or the 15 sanatoria. Approximately 175,000 persons were examined last year in these clinics.

Health

The family doctor can play a significant part in the fight against tuberculosis. Due to his close association with his patients, he is in an excellent position to recognize the possible presence of this disease. A yearly general health check-up, including an X-ray of the lungs, is good insurance. Early diagnosis and treatment mean early recovery.

Although Canada shows a steadily declining death rate from tuberculosis, there are still nearly 1,800 Canadians dying of this disease annually. In the last six years, Ontario has had the lowest tuberculosis death rate of any province, despite which fact close to 300 persons die of this disease in Ontario yearly. Tuberculosis is preventable and is transferred from person to person.

The chest X-ray examination of apparently healthy people is a most valuable method of discovering unsuspected tuberculosis in its early stages. The purchase of Christmas seals made it possible for the local voluntary tuberculosis associations, assisted by the Department of Health, to give free miniature chest films to over half a million people last year. This is accomplished by the use of self-contained mobile units which operate throughout the province on prearranged schedule.

The rehabilitation of the tuberculous ex-patient is receiving increasing attention. There are now on the staff a Rehabilitation Officer and five assistants, occupied for the most part in problems of the ex-patient, but also correlating the in-patient training.

During 1954, more than 1,000 ex-patients were dealt with, most of whom had their problems satisfactorily solved. A steadily expanding service will eventually cover all sections of the province.

VENEREAL DISEASE CONTROL

The venereal disease rate in Ontario has been showing a decline for many years. For instance, in syphilis the rate has dropped progressively from 175 in 1943 to 80 in 1947, and last year's rate gave an all-time low of 15 cases per 100,000 population. While the decline in the incidence of gonorrhoea has been less spectacular than the decline in syphilis rates, there nevertheless was a drop from 163 cases per 100,000 population in 1943 to 120 in 1947, to a low of 50 in 1953.

In Ontario, the Provincial Government contributes substantially to the treatment of venereal diseases by providing complete and free treatment for all indigent cases at special treatment clinics, or through the local health authorities. Therapeutic agents are provided free to physicians for the treatment of all cases of syphilis registered with the Department. Consultative clinical services are maintained by the Division of Venereal Disease Control for the physicians in the Province, as well as complete laboratory service.

Believing that one of the essential features of the control of venereal disease is education, the Department lectures to medical, nursing and dental students and physicians and nurses doing post-graduate public health work in the Province.

In addition, films, posters, literature and other educational material on venereal disease is distributed to interested groups, including lay organizations and secondary school students.

ARCHITECTURAL AND ARCHITECTURAL ENGINEERING DIVISION

The Architectural work in this branch of the Department presents the greatest and most far reaching problems, these principally have to deal with erection of all Ontario Government buildings, additions to buildings, maintenance, operation and fireproofing of existing buildings, and the planning and designing of power houses, trade shops, laundries, etc.

The various mechanical services required for the buildings of the said Province are also important problems which this Department has to take care of in dealing with this class of work.

The planning and designing of all building projects for Department of Public Works involves many phases, such as the preparation of working drawings, specifications, working details and calling for tenders on all general and mechanical trades.

The building trades referred to above include all the structural trades, as well as plumbing and drainage; heating and ventilating; electrical work, general machinery, refrigeration, elevators and fire protection.

In addition to these sub trades, the Department has also to look after the planning, designing, calling for tenders and the installation of all kinds of furniture, furnishings, mechanical and hospital equipment, as well as power house and laundry equipment, and the machinery and equipment for mechanics' workshops and trade shops.

The large number of buildings located throughout the province require annually considerable repairs, renovations, fireproofing and alterations to maintain them in a satisfactory condition and to meet the needs of advancing standards.

This Division collaborates, in connection with building problems, with other Departments of the Government responsible for the administration of Acts which have for their purpose the control of the erection of public buildings.

Caretaking services are provided in the legislative and departmental buildings in Toronto and Branch Office buildings located in various parts of the province.

CIVIL ENGINEERING DIVISION

Engineering activities of the Department consist of preparing plans and specifications for the construction of outside sewage and water lines, and laying out roads and walks at institutional properties and maintaining same. This Division also takes care of the construction and maintenance of locks, dams and navigable channels on inland waterways. Grants to municipalities in aid of farm drainage are administered by this Branch in accordance with the provisions of the Provincial Aid to Drainage Act (Ontario Statutes 1954, Chapter 74) including grants for remedial works approved by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. Reports are also prepared on drainage and water control projects as may be required by the Minister.

INSTITUTIONS FOR ADULT OFFENDERS

THE ONTARIO REFORMATORY AT GUELPH, in population, is the largest institution under the control of the Department. The average inmate population is 890. In buildings, plant and equipment it is the largest prison in Canada. It has approximately 1,000 acres of land and arable sections are intensively farmed.

The farm lands produce excellent yields. There is an outstanding dairy herd. Guelph provides training in occupations through its INDUSTRIAL PROGRAMME, operating a woollen mill, planing mill, tailor shop, car market plant, a cannery and an abattoir. All work in these departments is performed by inmates.

VOCATIONAL COURSES are provided in bricklaying, carpentry, machine shop practice, auto mechanics, painting and decorating, plumbing and sheet metal. There is ample opportunity here for attainment of further ACADEMIC TRAINING. Under the ONTARIO PLAN the Guelph Reformatory has become a centre for clinical and psychological study and personnel training. Guelph receives male offenders under twenty-one years of age and first offenders over that age.

THE INDUSTRIAL FARM, BURWASH has 35,000 acres of land and accommodates 700 prisoners. In its wide panorama the Institution presents a vast expanse of forest, lakes, rivers, range land, tilled fields, town site and gardens, tied to distant centres only by railways and a narrow gravel road. Visitors who have called at Burwash, either in winter or summer, find it full of interest and beauty. Lumbering is the chief industry and a sawmill has been in operation there for many years.

About 4,000 acres are under cultivation. A registered herd of Holsteins is maintained exclusively for milk production and a large herd of Herefords is raised for beef. Owing to the fact that the adult inmates of Burwash are repeaters, an adjustment in the ACADEMIC PROGRAMME is necessary. Fewer students are enrolled in the classes and emphasis is given to private study and personal coaching by the teachers, whether by correspondence courses or by the use of text books from the school library. It has been found that most inmates who are interested in study are better able to make progress when the subject is related to vocational training, rather than to pure academic pursuit. VOCATIONAL TRAINING is afforded in daily tasks on the farm or in the bush, in the mill, the tailor shop, laundry, construction work, painting, firing high pressure boilers and electrical work. A VOCATIONAL TRAINING SCHOOL has two well equipped shops for machine shop practice and sheet metal work. Burwash receives repeaters twenty-one years and over.

THE ONTARIO REFORMATORY, MIMICO occupies two hundred acres of land and the main industry is brick and tile making. Raw material is taken from a large open pit on the property. During the past fiscal year, over 13,000 tons of raw material were processed in the mill and produced 2,000,000 pieces of manufactured brick and tile. Many inmates take part in the various stages from the drilling, blasting and loading of raw materials through the grinding, forming, drying and kiln burning to the sorting and shipping. An inmate, therefore, can acquire a good knowledge of the brick making industry by taking part in the various phases of processing. The total output of the mill is used in Ontario Government building projects throughout the Province.

FARMING is carried on, field crops are grown, and inmates are instructed in the use and care of farm implements, tractors, and horses. On the farm is a herd of pedigreed Holsteins. Poultry and hog-raising are intensively carried on. A modern MACHINE SHOP is connected with the mill and provides maintenance for the Institution. Younger inmates are placed in this shop for training and the skill acquired may enable them to follow this type of work when discharged. A SHOE SHOP gives employment to from twenty to twenty-five inmates who learn to manufacture slippers and repair shoes. Slippers manufactured are supplied to other institutions. The inmate population consists of short term repeaters over twenty-one years of age, many of whom are alcoholics. Alcoholics Anonymous hold meetings twice weekly and the results have been very encouraging.

Reform Institutions

A TREATMENT CENTRE FOR ALCOHOLICS, ALEX G. BROWN, MEMORIAL CLINIC was opened at the Ontario Reformatory, Mimico, on September 17, 1951, to provide treatment for alcoholic prisoners. This clinic, which accommodates 30 patients, is the first in Canada to work directly within a penal institution. The patients, who seek treatment and are selected, spend the last 30 days of their sentences in the clinic. The most modern clinical methods for treatment of alcoholism are being used.

THE ONTARIO REFORMATORY, BRAMPTON was established in January, 1947. It provides accommodation for a selected group between the ages of sixteen and twenty-five years inclusive. Because it is a selected and a youthful group, training is the first consideration, whether it be academic, vocational or recreational. Emphasis is placed on deportment and proper work habits, and the student is closely observed in all phases of his life while in the Institution. He spends one half of each day in the VOCATIONAL SHOP, while two to five half days are spent in the ACADEMIC SCHOOL, depending on his academic grade. The grades range from Grade V to Grade XIII and where possible instruction is related to shop training. When the inmate has progressed far enough in his trade, his knowledge is put to practical use in the making of articles for use at Brampton and the other institutions. Emphasis is placed on PHYSICAL EDUCATION with a view to developing a strong, healthy body and a sense of team play.

THE ANDREW MERCER REFORMATORY for women is situated in Toronto and has accommodation for about 175.

Opportunity for training is given in the factory, laundry, kitchen, dining-room, in housework, house painting, hairdressing and gardening. THE FACTORY and LAUNDRY are equipped with up-to-date power machinery. Besides learning to operate electric sewing machines, button and button-hole machines and serger, the inmates practise laying the patterns and cutting garments with an electric cutter. All work done in the factory is for other Government institutions and in the laundry some of the work is their own, the balance for the Ontario Reformatory, Mimico, the Training School for Girls at Galt, the Toronto Psychiatric Hospital and Department of Health Laboratories.

THE ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT covers Grades I to X inclusive and the school is staffed by a group of three teachers. During the past year 107 pupils passed through the school doing grade work as approved by the Department of Education. In addition vocational classes covering commercial subjects have been well attended, particularly typing, shorthand and elementary book-keeping.

HOBBIES AND HANDICRAFT are given an important place on the Institution programme, and good work is being done in oils, pastels, and water colours, as well as in shell craft, artificial flower making and ceramics. The Mercer Reformatory has a full time instructress in charge of crafts.

Reform Institutions

PHYSICAL TRAINING is in charge of a full time instructress and the programme emphasizes participation for all. Particular stress is given to the importance of posture, both in and out of class and time is allotted in class periods for short talks on sportsmanship and behaviour.

Weekly meetings are held by Alcoholics Anonymous, resulting in much benefit to certain inmates.

The Department of Reform Institutions makes regulations for and inspects thirty-five County and two City Jails. The Jail Officers for the purpose of uniformity are appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. The Department owns and operates eight district jails in the northern sections of the Province. Through the Ontario Plan, farms are to be established to provide segregation, useful occupations and training for prisoners held in jails. A start has been made on this programme and industrial farms are now operating at Monteith, Burritt's Rapids (near Ottawa) and Burtch (near Brantford). At present the Industrial farms receive selected prisoners from jails in their area.

PAROLE—THE ONTARIO PAROLE BOARD consists of a Chairman and nine members and meets at each of the Reformatories and Industrial Farms once each month. The Board interviews prisoners on one or more occasions, as it may decide. It has jurisdiction to grant parole in the indeterminate portion of a sentence. Prisoners are placed on parole under the supervision of Parole Officers.

AN AFTER-CARE PROGRAMME was introduced under the Ontario Plan, whereby former inmates receive direction and practical assistance to aid in their rehabilitation. (During the fiscal year 1952-53, 3,919 individuals released from Ontario reform institutions received assistance in securing employment at the final expiration of their sentences, or were provided with essentials to ensure that they were suitably equipped for employment.) The rehabilitation officers devote much time to following the progress of men by this programme. The rehabilitation staff presently consists of a chief parole and rehabilitation officer, a secretary, and 21 rehabilitation officers.

STAFF COURSES are conducted in the new Staff School at Guelph. The faculty consists of experienced officials from Guelph and other institutions and is augmented by visiting lecturers, each a specialist in his own field.

INSTITUTIONS FOR JUVENILES

The Department maintains two Ontario Training Schools for Boys. One school is ideally situated close to the town of Bowmanville. The grounds are spacious and the buildings modern. A creek winds through a valley which crosses the property, and enters a beautifully wooded section near the entrance to the school. Bowmanville has an average population of 190 boys, fourteen and fifteen years of age.

The second Ontario Training School for Boys is located on the outskirts of Cobourg. It was previously operated at Galt as a branch of the Bowmanville school, but recently was transferred to Cobourg, and now operates as a separate school. It occupies the premises formerly used by the Ontario Training School for Girls, and consists of three large residences originally built and used as summer homes. The Cobourg School takes care of the younger boys under fourteen and has an average population of 130 boys.

The programmes at Bowmanville and Cobourg are divided into departments. It is through a healthy vigorous activity-motivated programme that an effort is made to catch the interest of each boy, an interest that is nurtured and enlarged to such a degree that boys strive for success. Many boys when they reach the Training School have lost interest in school and the process of leading them back to their books calls for infinite patience and skill. The curriculum and methods are subject to the same inspection by the Department of Education as any other school in the Province.

The programme for the younger boys at Cobourg is mainly academic but manual training, gardening, cleaning and cooking provide useful work and opportunities for training. At Bowmanville, where the boys are older, the programme for boys may be full-time academic work, half day academic and half day vocational or full-time vocational. The following vocational subjects are available at Bowmanville: carpentry, machine shop, cabinet making, sheet metal, shoe repairing, typing, horticulture, cooking, barbering and laundry work. Both schools stress Recreation, and Arts and Crafts.

The Department operates a TRAINING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS near the town of Galt. The school has a varied programme, designed to meet the needs of the girls who are sent or committed there. The ACADEMIC SCHOOL covers Grades I to X and there is also a Commercial Course. Other activities in the school provide means for performing the work and at the same time instruction in skills expected of young women. All girls receive instruction in washing and ironing. Galt has a full-time sewing class and all work in the kitchen, including cooking, is done by the girls, under supervision. All girls receive practical training in general household duty. Galt has its own beauty shop and several girls receive professional instruction four evenings per week and become skilled in giving permanents, facials and manicures.

Galt admits girls under sixteen and has an average population of 100.

The Roman Catholic Church operates two training schools for Catholic boys and one for girls. The St. Joseph's Training School for Boys is situated at Alfred, with accommodation for 160 boys, and the St. John's School is located in Toronto, accommodation 170 boys. St. Mary's Training School for Girls is situated at Downsview, Ontario, accommodation 120 girls. The Boys' Schools are operated and supervised by The Christian Brothers of the Roman Catholic Church and the Girls' School at Downsview by Sisters of The Good Shepherd. These schools are well managed, and over a period of many years a programme has been developed to meet the needs of that group.

Every child sent or committed to a training school becomes a ward of the school until he or she reaches the age of eighteen or wardship is relinquished.

A Training School Advisory Board consisting of five members and appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council meets weekly to review reports from the schools regarding progress in training and on parole, recommendations for parole, placement and termination of wardship.

The Development Branch provides the machinery for “. . . encouraging and promoting improvement in the standards of accommodation, facilities, and services offered to Tourists. . . .” (Department of Travel and Publicity Act) Regulations so far made under this Act and under the Tourist Establishments Act, provide for licensing and inspection of Tourist Establishments in particular, while any matter “connected with or affecting the Tourist Industry” may be investigated, enquired into and reported upon by the Minister’s direction.

The Branch is officered by a Director and an Assistant Director. A total of fourteen inspectors are employed on inspections, enquiries, investigation of complaints, etc. District offices have been established in Kenora, North Bay, Orillia, Arnprior, Peterborough, London, Owen Sound, Napanee and Huntsville.

The Branch maintains liaison with the other Departments of Government whose legislation affects in any way Tourist accommodation, facilities and services, also with Municipal Clerks to whom the issuance of Tourist Establishment licenses has been de-centralized under the Act.

The facilities of the Branch are available to any operator of a Tourist establishment or to any local body engaged in the promotion of the Visitor Industry.

PHOTOGRAPHY BRANCH

STILLS: Black and white stills, colour stills of all tourist areas. Available for free issue to anyone wishing to illustrate article or booklet on any part of Ontario. Issued to newspapers and magazines in U.S. and Canada.

MOVIES: Production in 16 mm. colour, sound, or silent, of tourist areas and attractions. Available for free showing upon application for date.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Minister: THE HONOURABLE DANA PORTER, Q.C.

MAIN OFFICE

The Treasury Department issues cheques in payment of accounts as requisitioned by other departments and passed by the Provincial Auditor. Inquiries about Accounts Payable should be addressed to the departments concerned rather than to the Treasury.

The Head Cashier receives all provincial revenues as they are deposited with him by the cashiers of the various departments. Remittances should be drawn in favour of the Treasurer of the Province of Ontario but should be sent to the department concerned, from which the official receipt will be issued.

Loans to township corporations under The Tile Drainage Act are handled directly by the Treasury.

Loans to municipalities for the purposes specified in The Ontario Municipal Improvement Corporation Act 1950 are handled by the corporation established by that act. Inquiries should be addressed in the first place to the Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs.

Claims against civil servants for debts are handled by the Treasury under The Public Service Act.

A subdivision of the Main Office, known as the Securities Branch, looks after the issue and redemption of debentures and other provincial securities, the payment of interest and registration of ownership. This branch also holds for safekeeping on behalf of other departments any bonds or other valuable papers that may be deposited as security by persons doing business with such departments.

OFFICE OF COMPTROLLER OF REVENUE

The principal taxing statutes are administered by the Comptroller of Revenue. These include The Corporations Tax Act, The Land Transfer Tax Act, The Logging Tax Act, The Hospitals Tax Act, The Security Transfer Tax Act and The Succession Duty Act.

Law Stamps and Security Transfer Tax Stamps are issued and sold from this office.

SAVINGS OFFICES

The Agricultural Development Finance Act authorizes the Treasurer to accept deposits of money and operate savings accounts. Withdrawals may be made by cheque. This service is operated by the Province of Ontario Savings Office, which has twenty-one branches, as follows:

Aylmer
Brantford
Guelph
Hamilton
Hamilton, East End
London
Ottawa

Treasury

Owen Sound
Pembroke
Seaforth
St. Catharines
St. Marys

Toronto Branches: Bay and Adelaide Streets
Danforth and Fenwick Avenues
Danforth and Woodbine Avenues
Parliament Buildings

1556 Yonge Street

Walkerton
Windsor
Woodstock

The Savings Offices also act as agencies of the Department of Labour in the sale and redemption of Vacation-pay Stamps under The Hours-of-work and Vacations-with-pay Act.

AGRICULTURAL LOANS BRANCH

The Commissioner of Agricultural Loans collects principal and interest on loans secured by mortgage made under The Agricultural Development Act. No new loans have been made for a number of years.

The Commissioner also administers The Farm Loans Act and is Commissioner of Settlers' Loans under The Northern Development Act.

HOUSING MORTGAGE BRANCH

This branch administers the affairs of Housing Corporation Limited, a crown corporation established by letters patent in 1948 for the purpose of lending money upon second mortgages to aid in the construction of new houses. The making of such loans has since been discontinued and the corporation now functions only in the collection of repayments and interest on its existent loans.

THEATRES BRANCH

This branch administers The Theatres Act and The Travelling Shows Act. The principal work of the branch is the censorship of moving pictures and the inspection of theatres.

The licensing of public halls and dance halls by this branch was discontinued in 1944, and such licensing is now left to the municipal authorities. Licences to collect the Hospitals Tax must be obtained from the Controller of Revenue.

OFFICE OF THE PROVINCIAL ECONOMIST

The Provincial Economist undertakes studies, prepares reports and memoranda, and advises the Government in the general fields of economics, finance and taxation, paying special attention to economic and social trends and their effects on government policies, the effects of government policies on economic and social conditions, and the relations among federal, provincial and municipal governments. He also studies and advises on trends in the fields of public finance and on matters relating to public borrowing and the raising of money. The Ontario Bureau of Statistics—the statistical section—compiles economic, social, finance and taxation statistics. The “Economic Review of Ontario” is issued monthly, while the “Statistical and Economic Survey of Ontario” appears annually.

POST OFFICE

The post office of the Legislative Assembly is attached to the Treasury Department for administrative purposes. It receives and dispatches outgoing mail from all departments, and also distributes incoming mail.

During the sessions of the Legislative Assembly the post office distributes copies of printed bills, reports and other proceedings.

Publications

- *When copies of more than six different acts or publications are requested, a reasonable explanation as to use should be given.
- *When a request is made for more than one copy of an act or publication, an explanation should be given as to the specific use because of possible short supply and in the interests of economy.
- *Remittances made payable to the Provincial Treasurer of Ontario should accompany requests for publications for which there is a charge as noted.

CONSTITUTION AND GOVERNMENT

LEGISLATIVE POWERS

The corner-stone of the Canadian constitution is the British North America Act of 1867, to which must be added its many amendments, the Statute of Westminster, 1931, and the many rules of British constitutional usage, except in so far as they have been modified by statute in Canada. These rules are known as the conventions of the constitution. With the exception of the right of disallowance, rarely exercised by the Dominion government, it may be said that the Legislative Assembly of Ontario acting within its legislative field is a sovereign power with absolute authority over its territory and the people and property within it.

Under the British North America Act all subject-matters of legislation are apportioned between the Dominion Parliament and the provincial legislatures. To the provinces are allocated sixteen subjects: The amendment of the constitution of the province; direct taxation within the province (for provincial revenue purposes); the borrowing of money on the sole credit of the province (for provincial revenue purposes); the borrowing of money on the sole credit of the province; the establishment and tenure of provincial offices and the appointment and payment of provincial officers; the management and sale of the public lands belonging to the province; the establishment, maintenance and management of hospitals, asylums, charities and eleemosynary institutions; municipal institutions; shop, saloon, tavern, auctioneer and other licences (to raise a revenue for provincial, local or municipal purposes); local works and undertakings; the incorporation of companies with provincial objects; the solemnization of marriage; property and civil rights; the administration of justice; the imposition of punishment by fine, penalty or imprisonment for enforcing any law of the province made in relation to any matter coming within any of the classes of subjects enumerated in this section; generally all matters of a merely local or private nature in the province. In addition the provinces are given exclusive power over education while certain subject matters, such as agriculture and immigration, may be dealt with concurrently by the Dominion and the provinces.

The Federal Parliament possesses the general residuum of powers and in order to make that residuary aspect clearer but not to restrict its general nature, Parliament is given power over thirty enumerated subjects "notwithstanding anything in the (B.N.A.) Act."

The division of legislative powers has been the subject of a great deal of litigation in the provincial courts, the Supreme Court of Canada and the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. The resulting judgments form a large part of the constitutional law of Canada and no study of legislative powers can be made without recourse to them.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

The Legislature of Ontario is uni-cameral, consisting at the present time of ninety members elected by popular vote, with full authority to make such laws as it sees fit with respect to its rights and privileges and to legislate within its jurisdiction as fully as can the Imperial Parliament itself.

The rules and practice of procedure in the Legislative Assembly are based upon and follow closely the rules evolved during the course of centuries by the House of Commons of the United Kingdom.

GOVERNMENT

Executive authority in Ontario is vested in the Crown represented by the Lieutenant-Governor, who is appointed by the Governor-General in Council and who exercises all functions of the Crown necessary for carrying on the Provincial government.

The Lieutenant-Governor, together with a cabinet of ministers elected from the political party in power and appointed by him on the recommendation of the Prime Minister, form the government of the Province which functions in accordance with British precedent. While the Lieutenant-Governor is the formal and legal executive authority of the Crown, he must act on the advice of his ministers in accordance with the conventions of the constitution.

It is the cabinet or Executive Council that really carries on the government and it remains in power as long as it retains the confidence of the Legislature.

The business of the Province is carried on by a number of government departments, each of which is headed by a cabinet minister, who is responsible to the Legislature.

See page 215, Composition of Government.

COURTS

The Province has power to constitute, organize and maintain courts of both civil and criminal jurisdiction but can regulate the procedure in civil matters only. All aspects of criminal law are retained by the Dominion. The Governor-General in Council has exclusive authority to appoint judges in the Superior, County and District Courts, while minor judicial appointments such as magistrates, justices of the peace, sheriffs, clerks of the peace, crown attorneys and coroners lie within provincial jurisdiction. The salaries of the former group are paid by the Dominion and they hold office during good behaviour. The salaries of the latter are paid by the Province or the municipality in which they act and hold office during pleasure, except that magistrates after two years' tenure hold office during good behaviour and capacity.

DIVISION COURTS

The Division Courts are presided over by County Court Judges and have a civil jurisdiction: Money claims on contracts up to $400 where the amount in question is ascertained; $200 in unascertained claims; and $120 in personal actions which may be increased to $200 where the parties consent. In cases involving more than $100 an appeal lies to the Court of Appeal for Ontario. These courts are located in both small and large centres throughout Ontario and the procedure therein is designed to adjudicate matters quickly and with a minimum of expense.

COUNTY AND DISTRICT COURTS

The County Courts have a civil jurisdiction in contracts up to $800, and in other actions, with some few exceptions, up to $500. Sittings, either with or without jury, are held at least semi-annually in each county and district town.

SURROGATE COURTS

County Court Judges are invariably named by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council as Judges of the Surrogate Courts. They are located in county and district towns and have a wide jurisdiction with respect to the granting and revoking of letters probate of wills and letters of administration of the property of deceased persons.

SUPREME COURT OF ONTARIO

This is the highest Provincial court. It consists of two branches, the High Court of Justice and the Court of Appeal. The High Court has, apart from the Division and County Court fields, original jurisdiction in both civil and criminal matters. Its Judges, with headquarters at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, travel on circuit throughout Ontario holding assizes for criminal matters and both jury and non-jury sittings in civil cases. The Court of Appeal, which sits permanently at Osgoode Hall, hears appeals in civil matters from Division Courts, the County Courts and the High Court of Justice and also various types of appeals in criminal cases.

MINING COURT

The Judge of the Mining Court, although having powers similar to a Judge of the Supreme Court sitting in a civil case, is appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council and is paid from Provincial funds. The Court has jurisdiction in matters arising under The Mining Act.

CRIMINAL COURTS

Here may be mentioned the Magistrates' Courts, the County Judges' Criminal Courts, the General Sessions of the Peace, the Supreme Court of Ontario and the Supreme Court of Canada, all of which exercise original or appellate jurisdiction in criminal matters. Although most criminal charges are tried by a magistrate or judge without a jury, the right of the accused to elect to be tried by a jury in all important cases is a right that is carefully preserved, and even when the accused has elected to be tried without a jury every opportunity is given him to re-elect if he so desires.

FURTHER APPEALS

While the Provincial judicial system ends in the Court of Appeal, it is to be noted that a further appeal may lie to the Supreme Court of Canada in both civil and criminal cases, under statutory regulation of the Dominion Parliament, with which the Province cannot interfere. Then again an appeal may lie from the Supreme Court of Canada or direct from the Court of Appeal for Ontario to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in London, England. The appeal from the Supreme Court of Canada is not as of right, but may be taken in every case by special leave of the Privy Council except in criminal matters which are barred by Dominion Statute. The appeal direct from the Court of Appeal for Ontario is by special leave or as of right, the latter being controlled by The Privy Council Appeals Act (Ontario).

—“A Conspectus of the Province of Ontario”

A POLITICAL HISTORY OF ONTARIO FROM CONFEDERATION

Upon the passing of the British North America Act, March 29, 1867, and the formation of the Dominion of Canada, the Province of Canada was divided into the Province of Ontario and the Province of Quebec. At Confederation, July 1, 1867, the four original provinces were Ontario and Quebec with the Maritime Provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

During the political vicissitudes of those strenuous years which eventually led up to the passing of the British North America Act in 1867 and the formation of the Union, the Hon. John Sandfield Macdonald had taken part largely in the public life of the country, from the time he entered the Parliament of Old Canada in 1841. A reformer of marked independence, he had opposed a federal union of the provinces, when leading men of both parties were struggling toward that end, but being sponsored by Sir John A. Macdonald, the first Prime Minister of the Dominion and the acknowledged leader of that great movement, he had accepted the task of the formation of the first government of the new province of Ontario. It was a coalition government.

MACDONALD MINISTRY, 1867-1871

In order to foster and encourage the building of railroads in the Province, the government passed an act in 1871, 34 Vic., Cap. 2, whereby $1,500,000 was set apart for this purpose.

Although law stamps had been in use formerly, this Act authorized the first issue of Province of Ontario law stamps which are issued by the Treasury Department upon purchase by the authorized law stamp distributors.

The Ontario Drainage Act was passed by 32 Vic., Cap. 28, in 1868, followed by 33 Vic., Cap. 2, in 1869, the Province being authorized to advance public monies, not to exceed $200,000, to be expended on drainage.

BLAKE MINISTRY, 1871-1872

The passing of the John Sandfield Macdonald government was followed by Hon. Edward Blake as Premier, with Hon. Alex. Mackenzie as Provincial Treasurer. All railway grants were to be ratified by the Legislature. Dual representation was done away with during the Blake administration. Several members of the provincial government left to enter the Dominion government.

MOWAT MINISTRY, 1872-1896

The Blake Ministry was of short duration, however, as both Blake and Mackenzie, in those days of dual representation, became largely identified with the Dominion Government opposition and there was a reconstruction in the Cabinet, the Hon. Oliver Mowat succeeding as Premier and the Hon. Adam Crooks as Provincial Treasurer in 1872.

Up to December 31, 1893, the cost of the new legislative buildings for construction was $1,300,017.17, and the interior fittings, elevators, walks, etc., cost $162,730.56. The total cost of the new legislative buildings is given as $1,501,446.68 in the "Report of the Royal Commission on the Financial Position of the Province of Ontario."

The site for the new buildings in Queen's Park was obtained from the City of Toronto, in an agreement made with the government, February 18, 1880. Thirty thousand dollars was paid for the purchase of the old asylum premises, which occupied a portion of the site, to the University of Toronto, 1888.

Municipal Affairs Minister Geo. H. Dunbar became the new Provincial Secretary, being replaced in the Municipal Affairs Department by Public Welfare Minister William A. Goodfellow. The Public Welfare portfolio was assigned to Travel and Publicity Minister Louis P. Cecile, and the new Minister of Travel and Publicity was Bryan L. Cathcart, member for Lambton West. The new Ministers were sworn into office on the same day before Hon. Louis O. Breithaupt, Lieutenant-Governor.

COMPOSITION OF GOVERNMENT

The Government of Ontario, as of all British Dominions, is based on a two-fold authority and responsibility:

1. The Queen, through her appointed Ministers, governs the country, initiates legislation and propounds policies.

2. The people, through their elected representatives, provide the appropriations of revenue necessary to implement the actions of the Queen and her Cabinet, consider the laws submitted by the Queen's representatives and either give or withhold their sanction and also have the final say in defining the policy of the country.

Ontario was the only province which set out in 1867 with a single-chamber legislature.

Section 70 of the British North America Act provided for eighty-two electoral districts.

See page 200, Government.

THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

The British North America Act, 1867 (Sections 69 and 70), made provision for a legislative assembly for the Province of Ontario.

First session of the first administration of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario met December 27, 1867, at Toronto in the building on Front Street, then facing Toronto Bay. This building was built in Simcoe Place, a square containing six acres extending in front of Government House and bounded by Simcoe, Front, John and Wellington Streets. It was a long, low, red-brick structure, and had been first used in 1832 by the Legislative Council and the Legislative Assembly of Upper Canada.

For a period in Canada's history the ambulatory system was used. The seat of government changed from time to time. The Act of Union, 1840, united Upper Canada and Lower Canada as the Province of Canada (Canada West and Canada East). The Parliament of the Province of Canada opened at Kingston, June 14, 1841; at Montreal, November 28, 1844; at Toronto, May 14, 1850; at Quebec, August 19, 1852; at Toronto, February 15, 1856; at Quebec, February 28, 1860, and at Ottawa, June 8, 1866.

The building on Front Street was used for the sessions of the Parliament of the Province of Canada which were held in Canada West from Union to Confederation.

Between the opening of the first session in 1832 and the prorogation of the last held in the Front Street building, scores of important questions and subjects were dealt with. The struggle for responsible government found victory, the secularization of the clergy reserves was consummated under its roof, the bill being passed in 1858.

POPULATION

(By Bureau of Statistics and Research)

NUMBERS

Canada's population at June 1, 1953 is estimated to be 14,781,000, an increase of 351,000 over the estimated total of 14,430,000 at June 1, 1952, and a two-year advance of 772,000 from the total of 14,009,429 recorded for June 1, 1951, in the Ninth Decennial Census.

This estimate for 1953 shows increases over a year earlier in all provinces. Ontario, which has the largest population of any Canadian province, as usual had the largest increase of 131,000, which compares with 168,000 in the previous twelve months. Quebec was next with 95,000 (118,000 in the 1951-52 period).

The estimated population of Ontario at June 1, 1953, was 4,897,000 or 33.13% of the Canadian total of 14,781,000. Quebec had a population of 4,269,000 or 28.88% of the total. (Ontario's population passed the 5,000,000 mark early in 1954.)

RURAL AND URBAN POPULATION

Between 1941 and 1951 (according to the 1951 definition), Ontario's rural population increased by 150,282 from 1,196,161 to 1,346,443. The urban population showed an increase from 2,591,494 to 3,251,099—a growth of 659,605 persons.

In 1941 the rural population formed 31.58% of the Ontario total and in 1951 this percentage had decreased to 29.29% and the urban stood at 70.71%.

SEX DISTRIBUTION

As in all young countries, Canada has a preponderance of males in its population, although the excess of males is not so pronounced in Eastern Canada as in Western Canada. In 1953 it is estimated that there are in Ontario 2,425,100 females and 2,471,900 males. The females represent 49.52% and the males 50.48% of the 4,897,000 total population. In 1951 there were in Ontario 2,283,372 females and 2,314,170 males. In terms of percentage, the females represented 49.67% and the males 50.33% of the total. In 1941 there were in Ontario 1,921,201 males and 1,866,454 females. In terms of percentage, the males represented 50.72% of the total and the females 49.28%. In 1931 the percentages were 50.96 and 49.04, respectively.

In urban areas, however, there is a preponderance of females resulting, in part, from the increased opportunities for women in those centres. In 1951 there were 101 males for every 100 females in Ontario, but in the largely urban county of York, there were only 95 males for every 100 females. In Carleton County (containing the city of Ottawa) there were only 91 males for every 100 females.

AGE DISTRIBUTION

In Ontario between 1941 and 1951, contrary to the trend established between 1931 and 1941, there has been an increase in the ratio of children nine years of age and under to the total population. In 1941 the number of children, nine years and under, was 599,439, constituting 15.83% of the total population, in 1951, 914,014 or 19.88%, and in 1952, an estimated 967,200 or 20.29%.

In 1941, there were 450,951 persons, sixty years and over, constituting 11.91% of the total population. In 1951, 582,847 or 12.68% and in 1952 an estimated 595,800 or 12.50%.

NATURAL INCREASE

Population increases naturally by an excess of births over deaths. Since 1940 the rate has risen sharply but the birth rate in Ontario has been below the Canadian average since 1926. In 1951, Ontario had a lower birth rate than any other Canadian province, except British Columbia.

For the fourth successive year an all-time record number of babies were born in Canada in 1952, according to provisional estimates. There were increases in births as compared with 1951 in all provinces except Newfoundland. Ontario had the largest increase in registrations to 123,344 from 116,193 in 1951. In Newfoundland the number fell to 11,967 from 12,942.

The other factor involved in the rate of natural increase is the death rate.

In Canada, in 1952, deaths from all causes and at all ages declined in number from the 1951 peak, and the rate dropped to a new record low figure. Number of deaths was 124,456 as compared with 125,454, and the general mortality rate stood at 8.6 per 1,000 population as compared with 9.0. Registrations in Ontario were 43,787 compared with 44,970 in 1951.

Ontario's experience and that of the Dominion may be seen from the following comparison.

CONJUGAL CONDITION

In 1952, marriages declined from 1951 both in number and rate. The total for Canada stood at 127,238 as compared with 128,230, and the rate per 1,000 population was 8.8 compared with 9.2. Ontario had 45,200 marriages in 1952 as compared with 45,498 in 1951.

For the first time in five years divorce in Canada rose in 1952—increasing 6% to 5,562 from 5,263 in 1951. In Ontario it rose by 1% to 2,130 from 2,102. The divorce rate per 100,000 population fell in Ontario to 44.7 from 45.7—Ontario and Nova Scotia being the only provinces where the rate dropped despite an actual increase in the number of divorces granted.

A comparative table of the population of Ontario by conjugal condition shows:

	Total	Single	Married	Widowed	Divorced

Population

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

In 1951-52 there were 814,087 persons in Ontario attending day school, or 17.7% of the total population. Of these, 28% were in rural communities and 72% in urban communities. In September 1953, the school enrolment was 915,946, 18.7% of total population.

The 1951 statistics, relating to the number of years of schooling obtained by the total population, shows Ontario leading Canada in the percentage of its population with 13 years' schooling or more. In Ontario, the percentage was 8.7, British Columbia was second with 7.9 and Alberta third with 5.8.

In Ontario, among those not now attending school, there were 364,906 with 13 years or more of schooling, which is nearly half the total for Canada, 764,862.

OFFICIAL LANGUAGE

Official language refers only to the English and French languages. In 1951, 89.5% of Ontario's population spoke English only, 1.7% spoke French only, 7.8% spoke English and French and 1.0% spoke neither English nor French.

The Census revealed that in the city of Windsor 15,110 persons—one in eight—were bilingual. In the province of Quebec, more than one-quarter of the population was bilingual. As it happened, Windsor's ratio of persons speaking both French and English was that of Canada as a whole, which at 12.3 per cent in 1951 was down slightly. Strangely enough, the Dominion's population speaking English only increased since 1941 by 1,651,909, yet the percentage in that category decreased slightly, while that in the "French only" classification rose.

It was reported that in the city of Toronto, of 675,754 persons, 10,049 spoke neither French nor English.

MOTHER TONGUE

In Ontario, in 1951, there were 500,598 persons speaking a foreign language as a mother tongue. Of this group, Ukrainian was spoken by the largest number, 73,710; followed by German, 72,686; Polish, 58,053; Italian, 52,136, and Yiddish, 40,660. Indicative of the immigration pattern of these people is the larger number of males in each language group.

RACIAL ORIGIN

The population of Ontario is formed predominantly of people of British stock. In 1951 they constituted 67% of the population. Numerically they increased by 352,089 since 1941.

The next largest group is the French race which in 1951 constituted 10.39% of Ontario's population. Of the 477,677 people of French origin, 173,955 live in rural areas. The greatest concentration of French stock is in Carleton county, the county of Essex and in Northern Ontario, especially in Sudbury and Cochrane districts. York county has 33,252 persons of French origin.

Population

Other racial groups, of which there were more than 25,000 persons in 1951, were:

German.....	222,028	Jewish.....	74,920
Netherlands.....	98,373	Scandinavian.....	37,430
Ukrainian.....	93,595	Finnish.....	29,327
Polish.....	89,825	Czech and Slovak.....	29,025
Italian.....	87,622	Hungarian.....	28,182

BIRTHPLACES

Canadian-born residents of Ontario increased by 693,204 between 1941 and 1951 and constituted 81.51% of the population in the latter year as against 80.64% in the former year. Persons born in other British countries numbered 441,738, a decrease of 7,407 from the 1941 figure of 449,145 or 1.65%. Persons born in European countries were 323,289, an increase of 120,451 over the 1941 figure of 202,838.

CITIZENSHIP

During the calendar year 1952 a total of 9,061 non-British subjects in Canada were granted certificates of Canadian citizenship. Of this number, 3,394 resided in Ontario; 2,447 in the Prairie provinces; 2,115 in British Columbia; 901 in Quebec; 195 in the Atlantic provinces; and 9 in the Yukon and Northwest Territories.

RELIGIOUS DENOMINATIONS

Members of the United Church constituted the largest religious group in Ontario, with 1,320,366 members listed in the 1951 census. Roman Catholics followed with 1,142,140 members, and Anglicans came third with 936,002 members. These three denominations accounted for 73.92% of all church memberships in 1951. Between 1941 and 1951, Roman Catholics increased by 29.44%, United Church members by 23.00% and Anglicans by 14.79%.

EMPLOYMENT

According to the 1951 census, Ontario's labour force of 1,884,941 persons represented 36.39% of the total for Canada. Of this number, approximately 1,681,573 persons found employment in the non-agricultural industries.

Of the non-agricultural class, 437,154 persons were in the manufacturing and mechanical group and 236,602 in the clerical group.

For Canada, the general index number of industrial employment for September 1, 1953, stood at 193.5, a gain of 1.5 per cent over September, 1952 and slightly exceeded the all-time high at October, 1952.

CLIMATE

Toronto, in the central area showed in 1950 a range of temperature from 88 degrees to -12 degrees or a mean for the year of 47.0 degrees. In 1951 there was a range from 90 degrees to -5 or a mean for the year of 46.0 degrees. In 1952 it ranged from 95 degrees to -5 or a mean for the year of 46.0 degrees.

Average precipitation for Toronto in 1950 was: Rainfall, 25.60 inches; Snowfall, 80.6 inches. The snowfall of 12.0 inches on November 24th was the greatest snowfall in 24 hours in any November since records were commenced in 1841. The total snowfall of 22.5 inches during November 1950 was the greatest snowfall in any November since 1841. In 1951 there was 28.37 inches, rainfall and 70.3 inches, snowfall. In 1952, 22.87 inches of rain fell and 32.6 inches of snow. The precipitation for the five month period, June 1st to October 31, 1952, inclusive, was the least precipitation for the corresponding period in any year since records were commenced in 1841.

Hours of bright sunshine in 1950 were highest at Woodstock with 1,966 hours. The Harrow station recorded 1,910 hours and Toronto, 1,892 hours. In 1951 Woodstock station was highest again with 1,992 hours. Toronto recorded 1,975 hours. In 1952 Woodstock recorded a high of 2,194 hours and Toronto was second with 2,070 hours.

GEOLOGY AND GEOGRAPHY

AREA

The total area of Ontario is 412,582 square miles, of which 363,282 square miles, or 88.1 p.c., is land and 49,300 square miles, or 11.9 p.c., is lakes and rivers. The province extends 1,000 miles from east to west and 1,050 miles from south to north. Of this area, 8.2 p.c. lies south of the isotherm of 60 degrees F. mean July temperature, which is generally considered the northern limit for the economic production of cereals.

Ontario is approximately equal in size to the combined areas of the following fourteen states of the United States: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

BOUNDARIES

Ontario has been described as that section of the Dominion contained between the Great Lakes and Hudson Bay and between the western boundary of Quebec and the eastern limits of Manitoba. Most of the boundary lines consist of lakes and rivers; e.g., the Ottawa River on the east; the St. Lawrence River and Great Lakes on the south as far west as the Pigeon River, which separates Ontario from Minnesota. The boundary then follows a series of lakes and rivers to the Lake of the Woods, which lies between Ontario, Manitoba and Minnesota. Ontario's immediate neighbours are the provinces of Quebec and Manitoba and the states of New York, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

ELEVATION

An extensive area of land bordering on the south and west shores of James Bay and Hudson Bay is low and swampy. The height of land which runs in a general east and west direction just north of Lake Superior lies in a large area containing an elevation of 1,000 feet and over. Here, at the north-eastern corner of the lake, at a height of 2,120 feet, is the highest point in Ontario. The slope from the height of land to Hudson Bay is very gentle.

The highest area in the southern portion of the province is found in Dufferin, Grey and the western corner of Simcoe counties, where the elevation ranges from 1,400 to 1,700 feet. Wellington and Waterloo counties have elevations of from 1,000 to 1,300 feet. A striking topographical feature is the Niagara escarpment with a height of 250 to 300 feet, and extending from the Niagara peninsula northwest to the Bruce peninsula.

The eastern portion of Ontario is relatively low level land, draining into the Ottawa and St. Lawrence rivers. Most of this area is between 200 and 300 feet above sea level, rising to 400-500 feet north of Lake Ontario.

FORMATION

There are four kinds of formation in Ontario: (1) Precambrian, 250,000 square miles; (2) Silurian, 70,000 square miles; (3) Devonian, 33,000 square miles, and (4) Ordovician, over 19,000 square miles. These figures (which are approximate) aggregate 372,000 square miles.

The great area in Eastern Canada underlain by rocks of Precambrian age is known as the Canadian (or Precambrian) Shield or the Laurentian Plateau. In Ontario the Shield covers the northern part of the province (except the coastal plain around Hudson and James Bays) and extends into southern Ontario north of a line drawn from Georgian Bay to the eastern end of Lake Ontario. It extends southward into New York State, crossing the St. Lawrence between Kingston and Brockville. The surface of the Plateau is generally rugged, with successions of rocky hills 100 to 200 feet high. The area has been heavily glaciated and is dotted with lakes, large and small, of irregular outline. The Canadian Shield is a great storehouse of mineral wealth.

The Ordovician formations form a zone extending from Kingston to the Niagara escarpment and stretching northwest to Georgian Bay and into Manitoulin Island. The Silurian formations are exposed in the Niagara escarpment and westward in a belt 20 to 50 miles wide stretching north-west from Niagara peninsula into Manitoulin Island. West of this, nearly the whole of the area between Lake Erie and Lake Huron is underlain by Devonian limestones and shales.

Southern Ontario, except that portion occupied by the Laurentian Plateau, belongs to the St. Lawrence lowlands. These plains are covered with silt deposits left in ancient lakes when the St. Lawrence outlet was blocked with ice at the end of the glacial period. The shores of these old glacial lakes form the sites of some of our cities such as Toronto, St. Catharines and Hamilton, which are located on the shores of ancient Lake Iroquois. It is this part of the province which contains most of the heavy industries, large cities and the developed farming areas.

The clay belt of northern Ontario which lies along the southerly part of the coastal plain surrounding Hudson Bay gives promise of becoming a great agricultural area.

POSITION

At the extreme points Ontario falls within the following approximate position:

North: 56 degrees 50" N. latitude

South: 41 degrees 41" N. latitude

East: 74 degrees 25" longitude

West: 95 degrees 9" longitude

SHORELINE

Lakes and rivers are plentiful in Ontario, as may be surmised from the total estimated shoreline of the important bodies of water:

Fresh water shoreline—2,362 miles
Salt water shoreline — 680 miles

There are many areas in Ontario that have not been surveyed as yet. Each year the unsurveyed area diminishes and the estimate of fresh water shoreline grows more accurate. Years will pass before the province will have a complete survey.

The salt water shoreline refers to the shores of James Bay and Hudson Bay, although it is to be noted that the waters of these two bays are not considered part of Ontario's area.

The Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Waterway constitute a large part of the surveyed shorelines indicated above. Because the Great Lakes are the most important inland waterway in the world and have had a great economic influence in Ontario's development, they deserve an important place in any discussion of Ontario's geography.

Their drainage basin consists of about 300,000 square miles, of which about 60 p.c. lies within United States. The following table gives some pertinent information regarding these lakes:

Lakes	Length	Width	Area of Water Surface	Total Area of Basin	Maximum Recorded Depth	Elevation above Sea-level
	Miles	Miles	Sq. Miles	Sq. Miles	Feet	Feet
Superior	383	160	31,820	80,700	1,302	602.2
Michigan*..	321	118	22,400	69,040	923	580.8
Huron.....	247	101	23,010	72,600	750	580.8
St. Clair	26	24	460	6,420	23	575.3
Erie.....	241	57	9,940	34,690	210	572.4
Ontario.....	193	53	7,540	34,640	774	245.9

Although Lake Michigan does not form part of Ontario's boundary, it has been included because it is one of the Great Lakes.*

Lake Superior is the largest body of fresh water in the world. Particularly noteworthy is its depth of 1,302 feet, which stands out in strong contrast to the shallowness of Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie.

The largest lake in Ontario not contained in the Great Lakes is Lake Nipigon, situated north of Lake Superior. This lake is 852 feet above the sea, 70 miles long and 50 miles wide.

CLIMATE

The climate of a great part of Ontario is tempered either by the Great Lakes or by Hudson Bay. However, the north-western portion of the province experiences to a large degree the cold waves of winter sweeping east across the prairies.

Toronto, in the central area showed in 1949 a range of temperature from 99 degrees to 4 degrees or a mean for the year of 49.6 degrees. This was slightly higher than the 68-year mean of 46.0 degrees. Averages for other typical stations are: North 37.3 degrees; South, 47.0 degrees; East, 41.8 degrees; West 45.4 degrees.

Average precipitation for the province in 1945 was: Rainfall, 24.15 inches; Snowfall, 72.7 inches. This compares with the 68-year average of 24.15 inches and 72.7 inches respectively. The west and south-west districts receive the highest average rainfall (27.15 inches) and the north and north-west districts receive the highest average snowfall (90.5 inches).

Hours of sunshine are highest at Toronto on the average (2,048), although in 1949 the Woodstock station recorded 2,295 hours as compared with 2,148 hours at Toronto.

HISTORICAL SUMMARY

THE FRENCH REGIME

What is now the Province of Ontario once formed part of New France. Among the chivalrous souls of that period, the names of Champlain, Frontenac and La Salle are inseparably linked with our early history. The lustre of their deeds and their devotion remains undimmed, and to them Canada owes a grateful and an enduring memory.

TREATY OF PARIS, 1763

Canada, including the area which comprises the present Province of Ontario, was ceded by France to Great Britain by the Treaty of Paris, signed on February 10, 1763. Great Britain expected little from the change, for at that time the total population of Canada was not 65,000. The western part was settled only around a few forts which had been built to keep open communication with the West.

QUEBEC ACT, 1774

Under this Act the colony was governed by a governor, sent from England, with French civil law and British criminal law. The first governor was Sir Guy Carleton.

AMERICAN REVOLUTION, 1775-1783

The American colonies, then colonies of Great Britain, revolted and won their independence.

TREATY OF VERSAILLES, 1783

The Treaty of Versailles gave the United States their independence.

Historical Summary

FIRST SETTLEMENT, 1780-1784

The first actual English settlement in Ontario was on the shore of the Niagara River in 1780, when Governor Haldimand proposed that persons should be encouraged to settle around the forts there. His aim was to produce for the use of the garrison. By December, 1780, four or five families had settled and built themselves houses. The large immigration did not come until 1784, but by the end of that year ten thousand United Empire Loyalists had entered that part of Canada which lay west of Montreal. A new British colony had been formed. The American Revolution and resultant Loyalist immigration changed the official attitude. The sacrifices of these first immigrants laid the foundations of the present Province of Ontario.

UNITED EMPIRE LOYALISTS

Feeling in the revolting thirteen colonies had not been unanimous in opposition to British rule, and with the victory of revolutionary arms the lot of the loyal element was not an enviable one. Thousands of loyalists were driven from their homes and were forced to leave behind any wealth and property which they might have accumulated, in seeking a new living in the backwoods of Canada or New Brunswick. The loyalists who came to Canada settled on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River and at Niagara.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL ACT, 1791

The United Empire Loyalists were English-speaking and had been accustomed to a large measure of self-government and they could not be content under the French system of land holding and the methods of government which prevailed in their new home. In 1791 the Constitutional Act, as it is now called, provided a new form of government for Canada and on December 26, 1791, the western part of the country was set up as a separate province with the name Upper Canada.

THE FIRST LEGISLATURE OF UPPER CANADA AT NEWARK. NOW NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, 1792

The government was put in the hands of a Lieutenant-Governor, an Executive Council, a Legislative Council of not less than seven members, and an elected Assembly of sixteen. To Lieutenant-Colonel John Graves Simcoe, the first Lieutenant-Governor, was entrusted the task of setting up the new machinery of government and placing it in motion, which he did at the first meeting of the Legislature at Newark, now Niagara-on-the-Lake, on September 17, 1792. In 1797 the Legislature was moved to York (now Toronto), which had been made the capital of Upper Canada. English laws and English methods of land holding, provided by the Constitutional Act, attracted many immigrants from the United States. By 1812 the population had increased to 77,000.

Historical Summary

THE WAR OF 1812-14

The demands of the citizens of the frontier states, who coveted the rich farm lands and virgin timber of Canada, forced the United States to declare war on Great Britain on June 18, 1812. Other causes based on British policy are given, but so far as Upper Canada was concerned the War of 1812 was a frontier struggle.

THE TREATY OF GHENT, 1814

The Treaty of Ghent, signed December 24, 1814, and ratified at Washington on February 18, 1815, ended the war.

RUSH-BAGOT CONVENTION, 1817

This Agreement limited the number and size of naval vessels on the Great Lakes and thus laid the foundation for a lasting peace between the United States and Canada.

IMMIGRATION FROM BRITISH ISLES

Following the Treaty of Ghent, the type of immigration into Upper Canada changed. It is true that many Americans continued to come into the country but greater numbers came from the British Isles.

DEVELOPMENT OF UPPER CANADA

Upper Canada continued to be a pioneer community, but improved roads and the development of waterways indicated that the country was progressing. York increased in population and importance and in 1834 was incorporated as a city and the name changed to Toronto. At the same time small and scattered settlements were to be found in the whole area of what is now southern Ontario.

REBELLION OF 1837

The rise of reform in England and the democratic movement in the United States, combined with certain local conditions, had their effect. The reform groups demanded responsible government. The final outcome was an uprising on December 5, 1837, led by William Lyon Mackenzie.

LORD DURHAM'S REPORT, 1839

To cope with the critical situation the Home Government appointed the Earl of Durham as Governor-in-Chief of all five British North American provinces and as a special commissioner. In his report he recommended that the Home Government should grant responsible government to the provinces and that Upper and Lower Canada should be united.

ACT OF UNION, 1841

The provinces of Upper and Lower Canada were united on February 10, 1841, with Kingston as the capital.

SIGNING OF REBELLION LOSSES BILL— RESPONSIBLE GOVERNMENT

The principle of responsibility of the Executive to the will of the majority was not recognized until Lord Elgin became Governor of the united provinces. The question of indemnification of those in Lower Canada who had suffered loss during the rebellion of 1837 brought about the concession of Durham's first recommendation. The "Rebellion Losses Bill" was strongly denounced by many groups but the legislature supported the measure with a large majority. In spite of the representations made to him to dissolve parliament or to refer the Bill to the imperial authorities, Lord Elgin signed it on April 25, 1849. The principle of responsible government had been established.

THE BRITISH NORTH AMERICA ACT, 1867

The Act of Union was satisfactory for some years but deadlock between the various political parties and the unfair situation which gave Lower Canada, with a population of 30,000 less than that of Upper Canada, equal representation, combined to force political leaders to seek a more adequate organization. The development of railways and postal and telegraph services had overcome the isolation of the separate British North American provinces. A further influence on Canadian political development in the sixties was the American Civil War. The political leaders realized that union of the scattered provinces was necessary to protect their borders against invaders.

After much study and many political sacrifices the new Dominion of Canada was created on July 1, 1867. On that day Ontario, with Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, began a new and greater existence.

In 1867 Ontario had a population of 1,500,000. The years which followed were marked by a quiet development which has maintained the position of Ontario as one of the leading provinces in the Dominion. Population now is estimated in excess of 5,000,000.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE, 1926, "THE BALFOUR DECLARATION"

The Conference opened in London, England, on October 19th and continued until November 23rd. It was attended by governmental representatives and technical experts from all parts of the Empire.

All the questions on the Agenda affecting Inter-Imperial Relations were referred by the Conference to a Committee of Prime Ministers and Heads of Delegations, of which Lord Balfour was asked to be Chairman.

The status of Great Britain and the Dominions was defined as follows: "They are autonomous Communities within the British Empire, equal in status, in no way subordinate one to another in any aspect of their domestic or external affairs, though united by a common allegiance to the Crown, and freely associated as members of the British Commonwealth of Nations."

The Committee also stated that "Equality of status so far as Britain and the Dominions are concerned is thus the root principle governing our Inter-Imperial Relations. But the principles of equality and similarity, appropriate to 'status,' do not universally extend to function. Here we require something more than immutable dogmas. For example, to deal with questions of diplomacy and questions of defence, we require also flexible machinery—machinery which can, from time to time, be adapted to the changing circumstances of the world."

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE, 1930

The Conference opened in London, England, on October 1st and continued until November 14th. Governmental representatives and technical experts from all parts of the Empire were in attendance. The Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (The Right Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, M.P.), was asked to take the Chair at the meetings of the Conference and of the Heads of Delegations.

The first concern of the Conference was the relations of the Members of the British Commonwealth with one another in the political and constitutional field, the general principles of which were laid down in the report on the Conference of 1926.

The task of the 1930 Conference was to consider and give practical effect to the declarations of 1926. Other matters considered were Foreign and Economic conditions.

THE STATUTE OF WESTMINSTER, 1931

The Statute was passed December 11, 1931, and is designated as "An Act to give effect to certain resolutions passed by Imperial Conference held in the years 1926 and 1930."

Terms of the Statute are:

(1) The Colonial Law Validity Act, 1865, shall not apply to any law made after the commencement of this Act by the Parliament of a Dominion.

(2) No law and no provision of any law made after the commencement of this Act by the Parliament of a Dominion shall be void or inoperative on the ground that it is repugnant to a law of England, or to the provisions of any existing or future Act of Parliament of the United Kingdom, or to any order, rule or regulation made under any such Act, and the powers of the Parliament of a Dominion shall include the power to repeal or amend any such Act, order, rule or regulation in so far as the same is part of the law of the Dominion. The above provision extends in Canada to laws made by any of the Provinces of Canada and to the powers of the legislatures of the Provinces respectively.

(3) Full power is given to the Parliament of a Dominion to make laws having extra-territorial operation. This provision does not extend to the Provinces of Canada and thus much conflict of laws is avoided.

(4) The Parliament of the United Kingdom may not legislate for a Dominion except by the request and consent of that Dominion.

(5) Certain provisions relating to merchant shipping.

(6) Certain powers of Dominion Parliaments in relation to Courts of Admiralty.
